Status of Women Council of the NWT Annual Report June 30, 2015
Honorable Bob McLeod
Minister Responsible for the Status of Women
Government of the Northwest Territories

Dear Minister McLeod,

On behalf of the Status of Women Council, I am pleased to present our Annual Report for the year ending March 31, 2015.

This year has been a busy and productive year for the council. Thanks go to all our funding partners for allowing us the opportunities to work on women's issues in the Northwest Territories.

One of our new events this year was a Campaign School for women interested in running for MLA in the next Territorial Election. A broad range of topics were covered with presentations from many of the current elected officials. It is the hope of the council that in future annual reports we can report that there is a critical mass of 30% representation of women in the NWT Legislative Assembly.

In recognition of the council's 25th year in operation, another interesting project was delivered. A publication offering a summary of the past 25 years of the council's work was launched on International Women's Day.

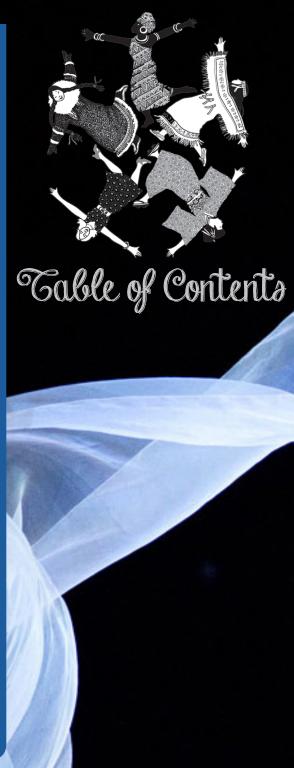

Along with our core work and yearly events, we have worked on special projects in collaboration with many community organizations on issues concerning Family Violence, Economic, Political and Social Equality, Women's Health and Wellness and Leadership.

I would like to thank our Council Directors and staff for their continued collaborative and coordinated efforts in our work towards women's equality.

Sincerely,

Tina Gargan President 2014-2015

Directors

The board for the Status of Women Council of the NWT is appointed by the Minister Responsible for the Status of Women. They serve for a three year term which can then be extended up to two times. During their appointment they meet face-to-face twice a year, in October and March, and hold several conference calls as required. The Board is a group of dedicated women, each representing one of the five regions of the NWT. They seek equality, change, and help direct the Council in how to follow their mandate and vision.

COUNCIL STRATEGIC PRIORITIES

Family Violence - Working with the Coalition Against Family Violence and the GNWT we have been successful in meeting these priorities.

- 1. Social Media Campaign: A strong campaign would shift attitudes and beliefs about family violence in the NWT over the long term.
 - "What Will It Take?" is a targeted social media strategy that we have helped with the development and implementation of. With the help of Health & Social Services we provided one-day of training for community members to use this tool. Allen Wade came up to provide a response based lens to the program. Staff is trained in delivering this tool and will be presenting upon request.
- 2. Program for Men who use Violence: A 24 week program has been developed for piloting but it does not have the proper resources to be piloted effectively.
 - The program for men is up and running through the Tree of Peace and is called "A New Day: Program for Men".
- 3. Community Outreach: This is a broad priority that takes into account a variety of community development and general outreach activities.
 - Community outreach is being conducted through protocol development. The Council continues to support this recommendation and provide assistance where required.

Social, Political and Economic Equality for Women and Girls in NWT

- 1. Community Consults with women so that women's ideas and recommendations are included in government frameworks and strategies.
 - We continue to work with community leaders and provide recommendations when required. We are planning to start a community wish box for women where women can place their vision for women over the next 25 years. We are hoping to review these suggestions and develop new priorities from their results.
- 2. Training opportunities to improve the education and employment for northern women.
 - Where funding is allowed we provide training to members of the community based on their needs. We conduct lunch & learns for schools, the college and many community groups. We will be requesting funding through the Women's Initiatives Grant for a two/three day "Women in Business" workshop that can help women start their own businesses.
- 3. Leadership training to help women and girls; campaign schools; self esteem and life skills training.
 - We hosted a Campaign School for women and have had one extended program teaching Nationbuilder and have two others planned in the future.

Early Childhood Development

- 1. Expand training for Early Childhood Development Workers.
 - We continue to advocate for a full course at Aurora College.
- 2. Expand and develop parenting course in all communities.
 - We are currently working on a parenting resource for single parents with the help of our nursing student placement.
- 3. Work towards offering affordable and accessible Early Childhood Development Programs in all communities in NWT.
 - We continue to advocate for affordable childcare through meetings and consultations.

Professional Development

Staff at the Council chose to use their professional development to go to a commemorative conference in P.E.I called "A Bold Vision".

"When 23 men met in Charlottetown PEI in 1864, their collective thinking and visioning ultimately led to the formation of Canada.

We wanted to know, what would 23 women envision for our country for the next 150 years?

Selected from more than 200 nominees, 23 aspiring and established leaders contributed to an anthology, participated in a Women's Leadership Conference and collaborated on a shared vision for Canada's future."

~ www.aboldvision.ca

Each staff recieved a copy of the Anthology written by the visionaries from the conference. The book "A Bold Vision: Women Leaders Imagining Canada's Future" is availible in our library or for sale from the conference website.

Staff Meetings

The Council staff holds weekly staff meetings, with guest speakers attending as necessary. Through these meetings, the Council reviews progress to date on its activities and initiatives, annual events, and programs and projects. They also discuss new issues as they arise.

Information Service

The Council's mandate to provide public education is met through responding to inquiries from individuals, groups, governments, and the media on a variety of questions and issues. We also post interesting information on our website, through Facebook and have created several play lists on YouTube that can be used to help spread awareness around The inquiries vary from various issues. requests for resources, documented or statistical information to written referrals, phone referrals and requests for advocacy support. People make inquiries in person, by correspondence, telephone, or email. Often, the Council is the first agency that women approach in crisis or advocacy situations. Concerns raised by individual women often lead the Council to take action and/or make recommendations to the government to make changes to remedy underlying systemic discrimination against women.

A Look at Modern Aboriginal Women: Yellowknife, NWT

This book helps showcase a project that looked at northern fashions, traditional medicine, food and the imporatnce of the companionship and support women give each other.

Throughout the project we have documented how traditions are kept alive by women in the North. There is so much we have to be proud of. This book contains photos, receipts and information to help keep women connected to their traditions even when they can't be on the land.

The Council provides resources to community agencies throughout the Northwest Territories by request through the Council's free video and resource lending library, which serves all NWT communities. Advocacy

Over the past few years there has been a marked increase in individual advocacy at the Council. The Council does advocacy in many different ways including lobbying on behalf of a client. Other services that are offered are fax, phone and internet use for clients to locate jobs or help their particular case along. Staff can accompany individuals to appointments such as medical, legal, court, human rights, income support, housing or other.

The Council is mainly a referral agency and does not provide counseling. At times, staff may use motivational interviewing and other forms of listening to help move a client in the direction they want to go. Some clients may need help advocating for themselves. Staff can assist with writing or formatting letters or resumes. Whatever the issue may be the Council is here to listen and find the best path in order to resolve/help the issues that women in the NWT face.

We have consistently been court watching the Domestic Treatment Options Court and attending special interest court cases. We have been paying close attention to how Sexual Assault Kits are administered and stored throughout the NWT.

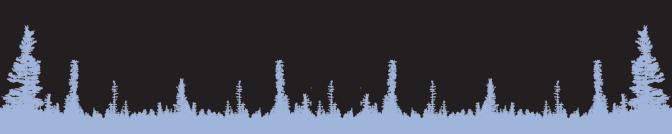

Another key piece of advocacy has been around the Anti-Poverty Strategy and the inclusion of an equity lens or component.

Community Development

The Council provides a wide range of community services to help other community groups that focus on women. We have had an increase in requests for design services including posters, web, facebook, pamphlets, media packages, commemorative booklets, annual reports and many other material development. There has also been an increase in the use of the video library for educational purposes.

In order to enhance services for women in the NWT the Council tries to support as many women's organizations as it can either through mail outs to all communities in the NWT, workshops (when funding is available) or events. We have a position dedicated to events coordination which has helped with many of the annual events in Yellowknife and has provided materials to over 500 agencies in the north. This information helps agencies so that they may host their events in their communities.

The Council is always open to helping small communities with their events by providing support and advice when possible. We have donated door prizes and provided speeches at several events this past year. We also provide support letters to causes that support our mandate.

Equality Day

April 17th marks the day when one of the equality provisions (section 15) of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms came into force.

The section states that every individual is equal before and under the law and has the right to equal protection and equal benefit of the law without discrimination based on race, national or ethnic origin, colour, sex, age, or mental or physical disability.

This year we held a small lunch & learn session where we showed the following videos and had a great group discusson on equality.

- The Selfie Revolution: www.youtube. com/watch?v=usixSGc7T9o
- The Representation Project: Rewrite the Story: www.youtube.com/ watch?v=mPAmiWtHHYs

Lunch & Learns

The Council hosted a Lunch & Learn Series that focused on topics that are important to women in the north. Each Lunch & Learn had materials for women to bring home and participants were encouraged to ask questions while at the session. The Council utilized multi-media presentations, written information packages and special guests to explore different topics. A small section of our website has been dedicated to the Lunch & Learn topics. Below are some of the topics that were discussed.

- Feminism Theory
- Equality Day
- Internet Safety and Abuse
- Self-Esteem
- Consent
- Women in Leadership
- Helping Tree

Wise Woman Awards

The Wise Women Award has been given to 108 women in the north over the past 23 years and we hope to see this award continue well into the future. It is important that we take this time to reflect on all the women in our lives that have the strength and compassion to continue in the work they do. Women who are choosing to live healthy lifestyles and role model values that are important for community change help our society to move forward. This award was created to recognize all the women that are behind the scenes working tirelessly to make a difference for their families and their communities, so that future generations have role models and current generations have women to look up to.

The awards ceremony was held during the annual Bread and Roses Luncheon held at the Tree of Peace. The original Bread & Roses campaign resulted from the "Bread and Roses" strike of 1912 in which workers demanded both fair wages and dignified conditions. The bread symbolized economic justice and roses represented quality of life. An opening blessing was done by Kathy Paul-Drover then singer/songwriter Leela Gilday sang. Opening remarks were made by the Honourable Premier Bob McLeod, Minister Responsible for the Status of Women followed by Dawn Lacey performing the original marching song for the Bread & Roses March in historical attire. The awards were presented by the Council board members. Each winner was given a few minutes to speak, a framed certificate and an etched award commissioned by the Council from the Old Town Glassworks.

Gender Equality in the Arctic Akureyri, Iceland, October 2014

Annemieke participated in the 'Political Representation and Participation in Decision Making: Gendered Dimensions' panel at the 'Gender Equality in the Arctic' conference held in Akureyri, Iceland in October 2014.

Annemieke gave a talk about the key gender challenges in the Northwest Territories today: violence against women; and a lack of females in political leadership positions. For each of these challenges, she discussed the actions being taken to address them by government and non-governmental organizations, including: the development of a Territorial Family Violence Report Card; stabilization of shelter funding; recognition of women in otherwise unrecognized leadership roles in their communities through annual Wise Women Awards ceremonies; and campaign schools for women entering politics.

She also spent some time describing our territorial style of government. The consensus style of government of the Northwest Territories is a form of government that has no parties. Each member of the Legislative Assembly runs as an independent. While there are benefits to this form of government, she discussed how it might be an additional barrier to women entering territorial politics as a candidate. This issue prompted an interesting discussion in the following question period on what kinds of structural changes to existing governments in our respective countries could be made to be more accommodating for both women and men.

The conference as a whole provided current information that is exceptionally relevant to improving gender equity in northern Canada. General themes emerged that are common among all the circumpolar countries, but some countries have developed more effective means of addressing the inequities. From a Canadian perspective, the Icelandic approaches to increasing female political representation have been not enormously successful for Iceland, but would be particularly appropriate for Canada's northern territories.

April 6-11 is victim of Crime Awareness Week

WITHOUT CONSENT REPRESENT

If a person is asleep, incoherent, or not fully aware of her or his environment in any way due to alcohol or another substance, she or he cannot give consent. Any form of sexual activity acted on another person without her or his consent is assault.

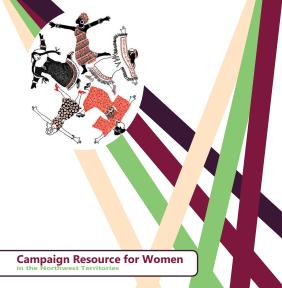

Victim's of Crime Awareness Week

Victims of Crime Awareness Week 2014 was the week of April 6-11. With funding from the federal Department of Justice, the Council ran a media campaign on the topic of consent and sexual violence, aimed at improving the social response to persons who have been victimized in this manner, and inform victims of the support services available to them. Advertising stated that "Sex Without Consent is a Crime. If a person is asleep, incoherent, or not fully aware of her or his environment in any way due to alcohol or another substance, she or he cannot give consent. Any form of sexual activity acted on another person with her or his consent is assault. If you have been a victim of assault, it is not your fault. If someone has assaulted you, that person is responsible. For help, call the RCMP, Victim Services or the NWT Help Line." The contact phone numbers for community Victim Services and the NWT Help Line were provided.

The campaign was conducted in the News/North newspaper, social media and in local CKLB radio ads.

The Council hosted a Campaign School for 40 women on February 6 and 7 at the Yellowknife Inn. The Campaign School offered support and encouragement to NWT women interested in running for MLA in the 2015 territorial election, and for those that want to help a woman get elected. It did so by providing real supports to prospective candidates in the form of workshop training for both themselves and potential members of their campaign teams, complemented by relevant, up-to-date resource materials participants could take home.

Dehcho Family Violence Protocol Project

The purpose of this proposal was to develop a plan of work and budget to support tasks related to the Family Violence Protocol Development and Implementation project in non-shelter regions.

First Steps

Preliminary meetings were done in February in Fort Simpson and Fort Providence to meet and engage the community and see where they were at in terms of readiness with developing a family violence protocol.

The Community Meetings

Fort Providence

The Interagency Protocol Review and Implementation meeting brought together stakeholders from the community. The protocol work was based on the understanding that reducing violence, and offering support to victims, to perpetrators, and to those who work in the field of violence prevention/recovery, is part of a community development process; as well it was also agreed upon that agencies and service providers can benefit from formalized structures for receiving training, information, debriefing and professional support.

Fort Simpson

The Interagency Protocol Review and Implementation meeting brought together individuals and organizations interested in discussing ways of increasing safety in the community and implementing a revised and renewed Interagency Protocol for assisting victims of family violence. The meeting was successful in revisiting existing strengths, community relationships, commitments and challenges to be addressed in a Protocol implementation process.

Fort Liard

The Interagency Protocol Review and Implementation meeting was developed by the Fort Liard Interagency Group based on their pre-existing work and processes for responding to reports of violence. This meeting provided the opportunity to learn about what the Interagency does in response to violence as well as document their aspirations for addressing violence in the future.

Summary

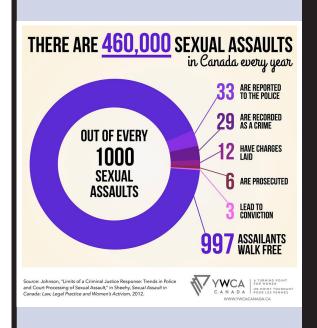

Protocols and checklists were prepared for review for the communities.

16 Days of Action

From November 25, the International Day for the Elimination of Violence against Women, to December 10, Human Rights Day, the 16 Days of Activism against Gender-Based Violence Campaign is a time to galvanize action to end violence against women and girls around the world.

The Council took part in this campaign for the frist time this year by creating postcards and mailing them out as well as handing them out in Yellowknife for the first day. Each day we posted something on our facebook/website regarding violence against women.

Several events were included during this time such as human rights day and a teach in from Native Women's Association.

December 6th Vigil

The Council organized the December 6th National Day of Remembrance and Action on Violence against Women and Girls. On December 6, 1989, armed with a semi-automatic rifle, ammunition and knives, a man walked through the halls of L'Ecole Polytechnique in Montreal, separating the males from the females, and then proceeded to shoot and kill 14 women while making violent gender-based statements against them. Thirteen others were wounded.

This event marked the 25th anniversary of what came to be known as the Montreal Massacre. Events were held throughout the country to remember the 14 women who were killed and all women who have suffered violence in their lives because they were women. The public joined us in remembering those we have lost and declaring that violence against women will not be tolerated in our community.

This year Lorraine Phaneuf was the MC. The food was blessed by Captain Ruth Gillingham and an opening prayer was done by Be'sha Blondin. Opening remarks came from the Honourable Glen Abernethy, the Minister for Health & Social Serivces. Gayla Thunstrom the Vice President of the NWT Northern Territories Federation of Labour spoke a few words and then the ceremony started. A slide show showing each of the 14 women that were lost was shown while women came up and placed a red rose into a vase. A healing moment was honoured and then Lani Cooke finished the Vigil speaking to a project she was working on.

The Coalition Against Family Violence is a territorial interagency group that brings together individuals, non-government and government agencies to share information and undertake projects in keeping with the mandate. The Coalition meets once a month; specific project committees also meet at least monthly. The Coalition is chaired and administered by the Status of Women. Minutes and other documents concerning family violence are distributed by email to members. The Status of Women Council NWT chairs subcommittees for annual events. Coalition events often include mail out packages to agencies across the NWT. and an event in Yellowknife.

Coalition Mandate

The Coalition Against Family Violence NWT envisions a peaceful, equitable society where all territorial residents, as individuals, members of families, communities, organizations or governments, are valued, respected, safe and free from abuse and inequalities.

Coalition Purpose

- 1. To increase awareness of family violence issues for NWT residents.
- To bring together like-minded people from all sectors of the community to develop, establish and implement specific actions or initiatives to address family violence issues and the needs of those people affected by family violence.
- 3. To work collectively to reduce the incidence of family violence and to more effectively respond to family violence in the NWT.

Activities This Year

- The Coalition Against Family Violence meets once a month to work on family violence issues in the NWT.
- Administration and networking is done by the Status of Women Council NWT.
- Training for Coalition members continues this year and is a focus of interest to the members.
- Several Coalition members and community members provided updates or presentations on the work that they do relating to family violence awareness, prevention and change.
- On Demand Dignity Bags for all NWT Shelters have been created and are mailed from the Status of Women Council NWT office.

Family Violence Awareness Week (FVAW) 2014

We continuted to use "It's EVERYONE's Business, What Will YOU Do?" and developed materials that focus on negating the bystander effect while promoting non-violence and positive social responses within the community. This was to build upon the response based approach that the Coalition is trying to follow from now on. This ties into the proper use of language that reduces victim blaming and focuses on the responses that those witnessing or suspecting family violence can draw upon.

We developed a kit and provided small grants that were widely used accross the territory. We found that it is crucial to work cooperatively with leaders, service providers and community members in developing and implementing strategies that will work in communities. Sharing the ownership and responsibility is paramount in addressing family violence in the Northwest Territories. Support through email and phone was available to help communities come up with ideas that would work best in their regions as well as promotional items were sent to encourage the message further. A territorial ad campaign was done as well.

Resource Kit and Mail Out

Information packages contained safety information planning and (Emergency Protection Orders) for individuals living in violent environments. The kit also contained tools and promotional items that community organizers could use to hold awareness and prevention activities/events. This year the committee fed off it success with the Family Violence and Teens Manual and created an adult version called "Love Shouldn't Hurt". If you would like a copy please contact us. We also had a pledge people could take and send their pictures in. A few are on our Facebook page.

Small Grants ($1,000)

This year the committee decided to build on the last four years of success and send out small grants of $1,000 to communities of the NWT that apply and help them with their events. We received funding inquiries and managed to fund nine communities in the NWT. The results we received were very positive and everyone who applied would like to see this fund offered to them again in the future. The grants were awarded to the following communities:

- 1. Inuvik
- 2. Tuktoyaktuk
- 3. Fort Good Hope
 - Fort Liard
- 5. Fort Simpson
- 6. Hay River
- 7. Hay River Reserve
- 8. Kakisa
- 9. Tsiigehtchic

Unfortunately three communities that applied were not able to recieve a grant due to lack of funding, but all were encouraged to apply next year with their ideas. The funding is supplied on a first come first serve basis with a few conditions that the event must meet.

Additional Materials

A poster/insert was developed that focused on a story and information that talked about positive and poor social responses. The front of the poster was people taking a pledge of non-violence. On the back of the poster was contact information for all RCMP, Family Violence Crisis Lines, Victim Services and other supports someone may wish to contact if they are in need of information or help. The contact for EPO's was also provided. The poster was distributed in the News/North, during the launch and was included in all resource packages. Promotional items such as screen cleaners with EPO information on the back were purchased and distributed as advertising during the week's events. They were also sent out to communities upon request. This year we have received the highest level of response from communities requesting more promotional items and written materials than any other year. This is the first year we ran out of promotion items.

Take Back the Night - October 9, 2014

We had over 200 people marching to end violence in Yellowknife. The March started at Sombe K'e Plaza with an address from the Honourable Bob McLeod (Minister Responsible for the Status of Women) and then City Hall with his Worship Mark Heyck (Yellowknife Mayor) speaking. Then Gail Cyr (Coalition Member) led the March as chant leader over to the Post Office the group then heard from Nola Nallugiek (ED for the Native Women's Association). From there the crowd marched to the alley behind the Gold Range where Pertice Moffitt (Aurora College & concerned citizen) spoke. We walked past Angel Street and finally we ended at the Greenstone Building with an address from Constable Elenore Sturko (Media Liaison, "G" Divison RCMP) and a thank you from Lorraine Phaneuf (Chair for Coalition). City By-Law helped keep the marchers safe and on the right side from traffic during the event. Many people came early to collect flags and placards to march in solidarity. We also provided a free additional ad in the paper for communities outside Yellowknife that organized a Take Back the Night March.

What Will It Take? - Training with Allan Wade

Family Violence is spread through society and touches us all in many areas of our lives. Family Violence affects individuals of all ages, rural and urban, rich and poor, and all ethnic and educational backgrounds. Society often does not know how to respond when violence occurs. A phenomenon in which the greater the number of people present, the less likely a person is to help someone in distress is referred to as the "Bystander effect". Bystanders can make a difference in helping a victim of violence and could potentially save a life.

On February 3rd seventy people who have an interest in Family Violence and facilitating the WWIT Bystander training in their community attended a one day training led by Dr. Allan Wade. Fifteen community participants traveled to attend the training. Additional participants from the Family Violence Shelters were brought in by the YWCA.

The one-day training topics included: learning the necessary facilitation skills (techniques) when facilitating on such a sensitive topic and where people have strong beliefs and attitudes and response-base practice as it pertains to the training (4 key beliefs, importance of social responses, group, information on language and an overview of the 'What Will it Take" Facilitator Guide).

Additional training days will be offered by the Status of Women on a smaller scale in their boardroom where participants can further develop their skills. New participants can also attend the train the trainer event if they were unavailable for the training in February.

All participants were given a guide to bring back to their communities. It is the hope of the organizers that communities will offer the bystander training in their communities. Copies of the kits are available from GNWT H&SS.

At the end of September, the Advisory Councils on the Status of Women from across Canada met in Charlottetown, PEI for the annual National Coalition meeting. The National Coalition of Provincial and Territorial Advisory Councils on the Status of Women share information about the activities, issues, and best practices of each member organization and plan actions to address national issues that affect the status of Canadian women.

Most of the topics for discussion at the National Coalition table are ongoing issues of concern, including the need for national strategies to prevent violence against women and girls; the particular need for an inquiry into missing and murdered Indigenous women; changes to Employment Insurance benefits, including maternity and parental benefits; unaddressed instances of sexism by professionals such as judges or doctors; unequal access to basic health services, especially abortion care; effective ways to support women in government and leadership at all levels; inclusive economic development that benefits women equally with men; and the need for supports and services for sex trade workers.

The National Coalition will carry these issues forward with research-based letters to policy-makers and to the general public.

We Want Your Opinion

We want to make sure when applying for funds that we are asking for things that will work best for the community, for women and for service providers to access, retain and take action. If you have any ideas on what makes you remember training, information or take action please let us know either by email council@statusofwomen.nt.ca or phoning toll free at 1.888.234.4485

Joint Board Meeting with Women's Groups

Status of Women Council hosted a meeting on Saturday, March 7, 2015 with the executive directors and board members of the Status of Women Council, Native Women's Association, YWCA, and the Yellowknife Women's Society to begin a conversation on collaborating on some of the issues women in the NWT are facing. While each participating organization has its own specific mandate and approach, the meeting offered the participants an opportunity to collectively identify priority concerns affecting the lives of women in the NWT, to identify common goals and to explore ways of working together to achieve them.

Themes

Participants identified four major themes from the topics discussed:

- Violence and addictions;
- Barriers to programs and services (literacy, language barriers, lack of communication between services, lack of the right supports addressing the real issues);
- Recognition and healing from oppression;
- Intergenerational mentoring and leadership (Support for families to value and honour the sacredness of both children and Elders through compassionate childcare, education and planning for the future based on respect for cultural heritage).

A joint statement was done on International Women's Day at the 2015 Wise Women Awards confirming that an open dialogue will continue.

Next Steps

- Create a list of services to include the four women's boards consolidate our information
- Research women's coalition in Yukon to learn from them (Liard women's society)
- Meet every six months

Workshop participants agreed to some next steps to pursue collectively. Each organization agreed to take the discussions from this meeting, and the proposed next steps back to their boards for further discussion and confirmation.

Thank you to Tait Communications for taking the time to offer to facilitate the day free of costs.

Financial information presented elsewhere in the annual report is consistent with that contained in the financial statements.

The Council maintains systems in internal accounting and administrative controls of high quality, consistent with reasonable cost. Independent Auditor's Report

To the Directors of Status of Women Council of the Northwest Territories

I have audited the statement of financial statements of The Status of Women Council of the Northwest Territories, which comprise the statements of financial position as at March 31 2015, and the statements of operations, changes in net financial assets, and cash flows for the year then ended and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Management's responsibility for the financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibility

My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audits. I conducted my audits in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that I comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparations and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

Opinion

In my opinion these financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Status of Women Council of the Northwest Territories as at March 31, 2015, and the results of its operations, changes in net financial assets, and cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian public sector accounting standards.

Other matter

As required by the Financial Administration Act of the Northwest Territories, I report that, in my opinion, the accounting principles in Canadian public sector accounting standards have been applied.

Further in my opinion, proper books of account have been kept by the Status of Women Council of the Northwest Territories and the financial statements are in agreement therewith. In addition, the transactions of the Status of Women Council of the Northwest Territories that have come to my notice during my audits of the financial statements have, in all significant respects, been in accordance with Part 1X of the Financial Administration Act of the Northwest Territories and regulations; the Status of Women Council Act (Act) and regulations; the by-laws of the Council; and any directives issued to the Council by the Minister under the FAA or the Act.

By their nature, these estimates are subject to measurement uncertainty. At the time of preparation of these statements, the Council believes the estimates and assumptions to be reasonable. Some of the more significant management estimates relate to amortization, non-monetary transactions, and revenue accruals.
