Letter of Transmittal

June 30, 2012
Hon. Bob McLeod
Minister Responsible for the Status of Women
Government of the Northwest Territories

Dear Minister McLeod,

On behalf of the Status of Women Council, I am pleased to present our Annual Report for the year ending March 31, 2012. This year has been a busy and productive year for the Council. Thanks go to all our funding partners for allowing us the opportunities to work on women's issues in the Northwest Territories.

This year marks the 20th anniversary of our Wise Women Awards. We wish to congratulate all the recipients of the Wise Women Awards and recognize all their contributions to the families and communities in the Northwest Territories.

Along with our core work and yearly events, we have worked on special projects in collaboration with many community organizations on issues concerning Family Violence, Economic, Political and Social Equality, Women's Health and Wellness and Leadership. We have also worked closely with other Status of Women Councils across the country to advocate on a national level to address specific areas of concern for women. New to the council this year is our work with Aurora College, whereby the council accepted a social work student during their practicum.

I would like to thank our Council Directors and staff for their continued collaborative and coordinated efforts in our work towards women's equality.

Sincerely,

Tina Gargan
President 2011-2012

Advocacy

Advocacy is done on an as per need basis, responding to women's concerns/needs. Women can request help by dropping by the Council office, calling toll free, or by email. Staff is assigned to advocacy cases as per their expertise and availability.

Often, the Council is the first agency that women approach in crisis or advocacy situations. Concerns raised by individual women often lead the Council to take action and/or make recommendations to the government to make changes to the underlying systemic discrimination against women. For more information around the Council's advocacy please go to page 7.

Staff Meetings

The Council staff holds weekly staff meetings, with guest speakers attending as necessary. Through these meetings, the Council reviews progress to date on its activities and initiatives; annual events; and programs and projects. They also discuss new issues as they arise.

People make inquiries in person, by correspondence, telephone, or email. Often, the Council is the first agency that women approach in crisis or advocacy situations. Concerns raised by individual women often lead the Council to take action and/or make recommendations to the government to make changes to remedy underlying systemic discrimination against women.

Advocacy

Over the past few years there has been a marked increase in individual advocacy at the Council. The Council does advocacy in many different ways including lobbying on behalf of a client. Other services that are offered are fax, phone and internet use for clients to locate jobs or help their particular case along. Staff can accompany individuals to appointments such as medical, legal, court, human rights, income support, housing or other.

The Council is mainly a referral agency and does not provide counseling. At times, staff may use motivational interviewing and other forms of listening to help move a client in the direction they want to go. Some clients may need help advocating for themselves. Staff can assist with writing or formatting letters or resumes. Whatever the issue may be the Council is here to listen and find the best path in order to resolve/help the issues that women in the NWT face.

Community Development

The Council provides a wide range of community services to help other community groups that focus on women. We have had an increase in requests for design services including poster, web, facebook, pamphlets, media packages and many other material development. There has also been an increase in the use of the video library for educational purposes.

In order to enhance services for women in the NWT the Council tries to support as many women's organizations as it can either through mail outs to all communities in the NWT, workshops (when funding is available) or events. We have a position dedicated to events coordination which has helped with many of the annual events in Yellowknife and has provided materials to over 700 agencies in the north. This information helps agencies so that they may host their events in their communities.

The Council is always open to helping small communities with their events by providing support and advice when possible. We have donated door prizes and provided speeches at several events this past year. We also provide support letters to causes that support our mandate.

Projects: Funding & Support Team (FAST)

The Community HIV/HEP C Prevention and Awareness Project offered community agencies and groups up to $10,000 of funding assistance to deliver prevention and awareness projects in their communities. The objective of the project was to continue to implement a program delivery process that coordinated community development HIV and Hepatitis C initiatives in NWT while ensuring that funding was distributed in an equitable, effective and accountable manner.

Applications for funding were mailed to over 350 agencies across the NWT. Applications were also available on our website or by calling our toll free number at 1.888.234.4485.

The Funding & Support Team used a coordinated and supportive approach to funding and mentoring projects by offering help with the development and implementation of community projects.

Projects: FASD Workshops

Motivational Interviewing Training Phase 1 & 2 were offered to service providers and prenatal workers from Feb 20th-25th

Motivational Interviewing (MI) is an evidence-based, person centered and guiding approach to communication that serves to help clients develop and strengthen their motivation for health-enhancing lifestyle change. MI is well researched as an interviewing approach that serves to help clients construct their own arguments for pursuing positive change, by helping them to find and hear their internal “motives” or reasons for wanting to make changes in their lives. It has been shown to dramatically reduce client resistance and reluctance in helping conversations. The training focused on understanding the MI perspective on client/counselor resistance, including minimization and preventive practices. Information/advice was given using the MI approach. The obstacles to learning the MI approach and factors that maximize MI skill development were also addressed. Guidance was provided to those who would like to build on this foundational level of training and maximize transfer of learning to actual workplace scenarios.

FASD Presentation February 22th

An evening presentation was offered to participants and community members on the effects of drinking alcohol when they are pregnant; long term effects of the disorder; cognitive effects of the disease and physical deformities.

The Reference Library Tool Kit includes:

Projects: Setting a Path Consultation

The Council held a two-day consultation with women that have campaigned or expressed interest in political office in the past two years. These women were considered women of influence in the NWT and through their campaigning gained valuable insight into the concerns of women from the regions. The Council wanted their opinions and ideas at the table in order to determine their community priority areas around family violence in the NWT. With the sunsetting of the Family Violence Action Plan: Phase II in March 2012, the results and recommendations from these key women could help focus what is important to community women.

The consultation was held on March 27-28, 2012 with 11 participants attending. Five communities were represented: Yellowknife, Hay River, Fort Simpson, Fort Smith and Inuvik. Two GNWT observers attended, one from the Department of Justice and the other from the Department of Health & Social Services. The staff from the Status of Women Council NWT were also in attendance.

During the consultation we learned the main priority areas for community women were:

- Education and awareness campaigns to change attitudes
- Ongoing Family Violence Action Plan within GNWT
- Addressing long-term effects of family violence
- Accountability for men who choose violence - Implementing program for men
- Address financial barriers to leaving abusive relationships: Bridging system that recognized income security policies, recognize issues/provide contingencies and affordable housing

Throughout the consultation the women established a valuable new network. They strongly indicated that they would work together in the future to meet shared goals. The group achieved a better understanding of the cost (economic, social and health) of violence in the NWT. There was also an increased awareness among participants on the current priorities and actions that the Coalition Against Family Violence is addressing. Participants learned about which programs are having the greatest impact in each of the regions and identified key service gaps that could be addressed by a client-focused Service Navigator position. The consultation as a whole was very productive and allowed a more in depth understanding of what community women face each day. It allowed for the successes in the past to shine and explored the areas that need more focus and resources.

Taiga Adventure Camp

The Status of Women Council NWT was very pleased when Taiga requested that we provide two self-esteem workshops for their 4th annual camp season. Taiga Camp is an outdoor camp for young women, ages of 11 – 17 from every community in the Northwest Territories. Taiga Adventure Camp offers a camp experience in a safe outdoor environment, where girls live outdoors, learn leadership skills, make new friends and discover their many talents.

This year Taiga offered three land based sessions at their base camp located close to Yellowknife, as well as two MacKenzie River canoe trips. The Council sat on the Taiga Camp board as well as provided office space and some administrative support to Taiga while they were setting up their registration and maintaining their camp.

The two workshops that the Council provided impacted the girls at the camp a great deal. The main activities were an ice breaker that let each girl know what their names meant, a journal was given to each girl to write down their experiences and an exercise called 'the helping tree'.

If you would like to learn more about Taiga Camp check out their website at www.taigacamp.com or follow them on Twitter www.twitter.com/taigacamp and Facebook

As a Member of Parliament for the Western Arctic for 18 years, she has worked tirelessly on and chaired numerous committees for women's issues in the north. Events: Wise Woman Awards

The Wise Women Award has been given to 93 women in the north over the past 20 years and we hope to see this award continue well into the future. It is important that we take this time to reflect on all the women in our lives that have the strength and compassion to continue in the work they do. Women that are choosing to live healthy lifestyles and role model values that are important for community change while teaching traditional ways is imperative for our society to move forward. This award was created to recognize all the women that are behind the scenes working tirelessly to make a difference for their families and their communities, so that future generations have role models to aspire to and current generations have women to look up to.

This year in honour of the 20th anniversary, the awards had several past recipients of the awards participate in the ceremony. The event was held during the annual Bread and Roses Luncheon. The original Bread & Roses campaign resulted from the lyrics of a marching song the bread symbolized economic justice and roses represented quality of life.

An opening blessing was done by Be'Sha Blondin a recipient of the 2004.

The awards were presented by the Council's new president Tina Gargan, a 2006 award winner. Finally this first North Slave Region woman to receive the wise woman award, Dawn Lacey, performed with Moira Cameron the original marching song for the Bread & Roses March. A wise woman in training Ms. Amelia Debogorski recited a small poem she created that touched in a women's resilient spirit. In honouring the 20th anniversary the Status of Women had a cupcake (bread) with a decorative rose on top for each person that attended. The cupcake also had an invitation to the evening event which was launching a book that was produced just for the Wise Women from the past.

The book is calling "Honouring Our Wise Women from the North" and contains pictures and bios of every woman that has won the wise woman awards since its inception. The book is still available at the Council office upon request.

Events: Family Violence Awareness Week/Take Back the Night

This year's theme focused on men who choose to be nonviolent or choose not to abuse. The committee wanted to encourage men to stand up with the community as leaders, role models and community figures and make a statement against family violence. Family Violence Awareness Week started on September 30 and ended on October 7, 2011.

Family Violence Awareness Week packages were mailed to every community in the north mid-August. The kit is also available on our website to download. The committee hopes that the information in the packages was and will be used to spread awareness throughout the north about the issues of family violence. We would like to encourage organizations and individuals to call us for more information around family violence and where they can reach supports throughout the year. The Council will also ship extra promotional items and materials while supplies last to communities so that they can host their own events around family violence awareness.

The Committee has decided to continue with the grant program to help communities host their own events during the week. The grant requests had a few small requirements; activities reflect this year's theme of nonviolence and focuses on men's participation in standing up against family violence, the event occurred during family violence awareness week, and they applied before the deadline in June. The small grants were awarded on a first-come, first-serve basis and we ended up funding seven communities in the NWT.

Yellowknife held their own launch during lunch at the Salvation Army Lorraine Phaneuf opened the event and guest speakers were the Honorable George L. Tuccaro and William Greenland with the Sisters of the Sacred Circle and Friends providing entertainment. There was a number of men that came out in support and the White Ribbon Campaign spoke about men's role in violence against women. Besha Blondin opened the launch with a prayer and Major Jo Sobool blessed the food at the end of the proceedings.

In the evening we continued on with the Take Back the Night March, over 250 people attended with PSAC as a great supporter waving their flags. There were many guests speakers that addressed key areas in the city that are identified as unsafe.

We would like to thank our funder the Government of the Northwest Territories for their continued support.

Events: December 6th Vigil

The Council on behalf of the Coalition Against Family Violence helped organize the December 6th National Day of Remembrance and Action on Violence against Women and Girls.

On December 6, 1989, armed with a semi-automatic rifle, ammunition and knives, a man walked through the halls of L'École Polytechnique in Montreal, separating the males from the females, and then proceeded to shoot and kill 14 women while making violent gender-based statements against them. Thirteen others were wounded.

This event marked 22nd anniversary of what came to be known as the Montreal Massacre. Events were held throughout the country to remember the 14 women who were killed and all women who have suffered violence in their lives because they were women. The public joined us in remembering those we have lost and declaring that violence against women will not be tolerated in our community.

This year's MC was Dianne Howe, an ex-military woman. There was a blessing from the Sisters of the Sacred Circle and opening remarks from Lorraine Phaneuf. The ceremony was led by Julie Docherty, Regional Executive Vice-President for PSAC North who posed a moment of silence to remember those that were lost. A slide show showing each of the 14 women that were lost on individual slides was displayed. While that happened a woman from a non-traditional role or trade came up and placed a red rose to represent the loss of one of the women's lives and read out that woman's name, birthdate and why they were at L'École Polytechnique that day. After the slide show was complete Sandra Lockhart, PSAC Aboriginal Committee, spoke to all the northern women we have lost due to gender violence and place a single white rose with all the red so that the gathering would not forget. A healing song was performed and then Elaine Carr a female engineer spoke. Lastly, Cameron Buddo from the White Ribbon Campaign spoke of their efforts. This year's vigil was also captured on video so those unable to attend could still pay their respects.

The December 6th Vigil was sponsored by the Status of Women Council of the NWT, Public Service Alliance of Canada North, Northern Territories Federation of Labour, Regional Women's Committee Public Service Alliance of Canada, Yellowknife Co-op, the Salvation Army and the Yellowknife Food Rescue.

Events: Federal and Territorial Elections

There was a federal election this year were the Council attended the Alternatives North Forum and asked a question. The Council also sent five questions to all the federal candidates and posted their responses on our website and mailed them out to over 400 agencies across the north.

The Council hosted an All Yellowknife Candidates Forum for the Territorial Election. The Form was live broadcast so that anyone could watch what candidates were saying about the issues that mattered to women. Questions were taken from the floor and from key women's groups in Yellowknife. Each answer was timed so as many questions could be asked as possible.

During the election period the Council encouraged women to run and provided materials available on our website for download. The Council also created small buttons with the slogan "It's a mans world unless women vote" to encourage women to get out and vote for the candidate that best addressed their issues.

Prior to the forum the Council sent every Candidate in the NWT three questions that addressed women's issues in the north. The questions were:

1. The NWT Family Violence Action Plan: Phase II (2007 - 2010) is sun-setting in March 2012. The Coalition Against Family Violence has put forth 19 recommendations on priority areas which require continued funding. Do you support these recommendations?
2. A severe shortage of quality and affordable childcare exists across the NWT. Due to the lack of childcare options, women are unable to work, take training or attend wellness programs. If elected, would you commit to helping all communities in the NWT build affordable, quality licensed childcare facilities?
3. According to Status of Women Canada, "Gender-Based Analysis is a highly adaptable tool that you can use to work towards positive social and economic change. Every action, policy, program, project, and socio-economic trend affects men and women differently/" If elected, what actions would you take to ensure the implementation of Gender-Based Analysis in new and existing GNWT policies, programs, and legislation?

The answers to the questions were sent out in a mail out to over 400 agencies, published in the newspaper, posted on our website and handed out during the Form.

We would like to thank our funder the Government of the Northwest Territories for their continued support.

Events: Women's History Month Lunch and Learn

Women's History Month was proclaimed in 1992 by the Government of Canada, Women's History Month provides an opportunity for Canadians to learn about the important contributions of women and girls to our society – and to the quality of our lives today.

The Theme for Women's History Month 2011 was to recognize women's invaluable contributions to the military in Canada over the years. The Council hosted a lunch and learn that consisted of a National Film Board of Canada's video "Proudly She Marches", a guest speaker Ms. Dianne Howe who was a former Warrant Officer for the Canadian Military and a video testimonial by Patricia Kruger found on the Canadian Military website.

The group was encouraged to discuss the topic of women in the military and the changes that have occurred over the years. The Council wanted to recognize the incredible work women have done within and outside the Canadian Forces, taking on great challenges and opening doors so that others may follow.

Events: Women's Worlds Conference Lunch and Learn

In July Council staff attended the Women's Worlds Conference (WW). The WW was in Ottawa, Canada with a theme "Inclusions, exclusions, and seclusions: Living in a globalized world". This theme was then further integrated throughout four days with four main focuses a different one for each day. The focus was around breaking cycles, breaking ceilings, breaking barriers and breaking ground. Throughout the conference there were break out sections that helped bring people together, provided a small space for personal discoveries and helped enhance the main theme of the event.

According to the Women's Worlds (WW) website (www.womensworlds.ca) the first Women's World congress was held at Haifa University in December of 1981. It was the first world-wide interdisciplinary gathering to focus on research pertaining to women's issues and to be open to all interested researchers and activists. Since then, WW has taken place every three years in a different part of the world.

When staff returned to Yellowknife we hosted a lunch and learn that featured information that we learned at WW and new ideas that were shared while there. The lunch and learn consisted of a booklet that was produced by the Council on each of the courses that we attended along with two other women from the north that joined us at the conference, Lois Little and Arlene Hache. The lunch also had a multi-media component consisting of videos from youtube and the WW website.

We would not have been able to learn so much from this conference without the help of our funder, the Government of the Northwest Territories.

Coalition Against Family Violence NWT

Coalition Against Family Violence Activities

The Coalition Against Family Violence is a territorial interagency group that brings together individuals, non-government and government agencies to share information and undertake projects in keeping with the mandate. The Coalition meets once a month; specific project committees also meet at least monthly. The Coalition is chaired and administered by the Status of Women Council of the NWT and holds monthly meetings. Minutes and other documents concerning family violence are distributed by email to members. The Status of Women Council NWT chairs subcommittees for annual events. All Coalition events include mail out packages to agencies across the NWT with an event in Yellowknife.

Coalition Mandate

The Coalition Against Family Violence NWT envisions a peaceful, equitable society where all territorial residents, as individuals, members of families, communities, organizations or governments, are valued, respected, safe and free from abuse and inequalities.

Coalition Purpose:

1. To increase awareness of family violence issues for NWT residents.
2. To bring together like-minded people from all sectors of the community to develop, establish and implement specific actions or initiatives to address family violence issues and the needs of those people affected by family violence.
3. To work collectively to reduce the incidence of family violence and to more effectively respond to family violence in the NWT.

Key Messages and Priorities:

1. Social Media Campaign: A strong campaign would shift attitudes and beliefs about family violence in the NWT over the long term. Such a shift would end the silence that surrounds abuse and make partner assault less acceptable.
2. Program for Men who use Violence: A 24 week program has been developed for piloting but it does not have the proper resources to be piloted effectively. Programs like this need to be implemented properly so as to not lose credibility in the eyes of the target audience, and so we can begin to see positive outcomes for men.
3. Community Outreach: This is a broad priority that takes into account a variety of community development and general outreach activities. This includes working with local governments and community groups, developing methods for safety planning, and projects to increase safety.

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Directors of
Status of Women Council of the Northwest Territories

I have audited the statement of financial position of The Status of Women Council of the Northwest Territories as at March 31, 2012 and the statements of operations and changes in fund balances and cash flows for the year then ended and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory notes.

Management's responsibility for the financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. This responsibility include: designing, implementing and maintaining internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free of from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error; selecting and applying appropriate accounting policies, and making accounting estimates that are reasonable in the circumstances.

Auditor's responsibility

My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audit. I conducted my audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that I plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. I am also required to comply with applicable ethical requirements.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error in making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparations and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, the auditor expresses no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

I believe that the audit evidence I have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

Opinion

In my opinion these financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Council as at March 31, 2012 and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles.

Management's Responsibility for Financial Reporting

The accompanying financial statements of the Status of Women Council of the Northwest Territories are the responsibility of the management and have been approved by the directors.

The financial statements have been prepared by management in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. When alternative accounting methods exist, management has chosen those it deems most appropriate in the circumstance. Financial statements are not precise since they include certain amounts based on estimates and judgments. Management has determined such amounts on a reasonable basis in order to ensure that the financial statements are presented fairly, in all material respects.

The Council maintains systems in internal accounting and administrative controls of high quality, consistent with reasonable cost. Such systems are designed to provide reasonable assurance that the financial information is relevant, reliable and accurate and that the Association's assets are appropriately accounted for and adequately safeguarded.

The directors are responsible for ensuring that management fulfills its responsibilities for financial reporting and are ultimately responsible for reviewing and approving the financial statements. The directors carry out this responsibility principally through review of the annual budgets, comparison of actual results to budgets on a periodic basis, approval of the financial statements, and engagement of the external auditor.

The auditor annually provides an independent, objective audit for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the financial statements in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards.

Status of Women Council of the Northwest Territories Notes to Financial Statements March 31, 2012

1. Accounting Policies

(a) Basis of presentation

The Council follows the fund basis of accounting. Related revenue and expenditures are grouped into funds based on their purposes.

The operating fund includes the main core operating accounts of the Council.

The Council, under its amended contribution agreement, is allowed to create a Maternity and Parental Leave Benefit Fund, using 100% of its annual unexpended core contribution to a maximum of $40,000. This fund earned interest income of $181.43 in 2012.

A contingency fund of $37,000 was created in the prior year to protect against funding cutbacks. This fund earned interest income of $202.82 in 2012.

(b) Revenue recognition

Revenue is recorded in the period specified in the funding agreements entered into with government agencies and other organizations.

(c) Allocation of expenditures

Certain common expenditures have been allocated to programs based on estimate of services provided.

(d) Financial instruments

All significant financial assets, financial liabilities and equity instruments of the Council are either recognized or disclosed in the financial statements together with available information for a reasonable assessment of future cash flows, interest rate risk and credit risk.

(e) Property and equipment

Property and equipment are recorded at cost. Amortization is calculated by the declining balance method as at the annual rates set out in note 2.

(f) Economic dependence

The Council receives its funding primarily from the Government of the Northwest Territories and other government sources. If the funding arrangements were to change, in management's opinion the Council's operations would be affected.

(g) Deferred revenue

Deferred revenue is unexpended contributions during the fiscal year that is transferred by agreement into the subsequent year.
