SPEAKER (Hon. Richard Nerysoo): Reverend Reaburn, would you lead us in prayer please?

ITEM 1: PRAYER

REV. EARL REABURN: Let us pray. Oh Great Creator and Eternal Spirit, through the ages and in all places You have guided the hearts and minds of women and men to seek that which is good and just. At the opening of this session we pray for Your continued presence with the representatives and officers of this Legislative Assembly. May their minds be ready, their vision large and their motives sincere, as they seek to work together in caring for this good land and in building a just and peaceful society. Grant Your blessing upon their endeavours and guide their deliberations and decision-making. We ask this in the Name of Christ. Amen.

MR. SPEAKER: I will ask now for the Dettah drummers to give us the traditional prayer in the Dene languages.

--Drummers' Prayer Song

Mr. Clerk, would you ascertain if the Commissioner of the Northwest Territories is prepared to address the Members of the Legislative Assembly of the Northwest Territories?

ITEM 2: OPENING ADDRESS

COMMISSIONER NORRIS: Please be seated. Mr. Speaker and Members of the Legislative Assembly, I am pleased to welcome you to the seventh session of the 11th Legislative Assembly.

A lot has happened since our last session in February. The Meech Lake Accord was defeated when MLA Elijah Harper refused unanimous consent to a motion needed by the Manitoba legislature to hold public hearings and a vote on the document. Then the Newfoundland government decided it would not vote on the resolution. Shortly after, a long-standing dispute that surfaced in Oka over plans to build a golf course on Mohawk traditional lands grew into a terrible conflict. The conflict pitted Mohawk Warriors and their supporters against the Quebec provincial police, the army, and the federal and Quebec governments. The stand-off is over now, but every Canadian knows that the laying down of arms by the Mohawk Warriors does not mean an end to the issues that prompted the conflict. There is a lot of work to do, a lot of new thinking that is needed in every province and territory of Canada. Your government recognizes this fact and is anxious to do whatever it can to assist in the final resolution of claims and in important issues such as aboriginal self-government.

Land Claims

In the western Northwest Territories the comprehensive claim is in serious trouble because the Dene/Metis leadership wants to renegotiate provisions of the final agreement. As a result, the federal government is now considering a request from the Delta Gwich'in Council for implementation of the comprehensive claim on a regional basis. Other Dene/Metis regions are thinking about taking the same approach. Discussions with the Tungavik Federation of Nunavut are continuing. TFN wants to see the formation of a Nunavut territory in conjunction with the implementation of its land claim.

In other areas, the economy of Canada continues to suffer. We are already into the beginning stages of a recession. Fortunately, we will be partially shielded from its effect by our Formula Financing Agreement with Ottawa.

Mr. Speaker, each of these issues or events has a direct and indirect bearing on the Northwest Territories. Each of them, in their own way, could impact on the pace of our political, economic and social development initiatives. It is against this backdrop that our government has attempted to chart a path to the future and to plan its concrete goals and objectives for the 1991-92 fiscal year. The result of this examination is clear. Federal preoccupation with extremely critical national and international issues, combined with efforts to fix the economy, and uncertainties over land claims are issues that could influence the progress we have made in recent years.

Heading into the final year of our mandate, your government, like other jurisdictions, must be extremely practical. We must be reasonable. Above all, we must recognize that it is going to take more than taxpayers' dollars to settle the many issues that are facing us today. It is going to take common sense and good will. An atmosphere of anger and confrontation on anyone's part, including the government, will not help solve these problems.

Mr. Speaker, unlike southern legislatures, this House is not divided by a party system. Through the process of consensus we have a unique opportunity to work together to meet the long-term interests of our constituents in a spirit of co-operation, rather than becoming mired in the type of political in-fighting that has led to such dissatisfaction and frustration in southern jurisdictions. That is the challenge.

We must accept the fact that there will be differences on various issues. We must renew our determination to make decisions for the long-range future of the Northwest Territories, not for short-term gain. Mr. Speaker, your government is committed to doing whatever it can to achieve the best possible future for the people it serves.

Last February the Hon. Gordon Wray introduced the government's economic strategy. During this session he will be tabling a comprehensive transportation strategy. The strategy is the first of its kind in the Northwest Territories. It is ambitious and requires a renewed federal commitment. It reaffirms your government's position that transportation improvements are prerequisites to a healthy economic future for the Northwest Territories. The transportation strategy, over the long term, will reduce the costs of goods and services and improve our freedom to move. It is designed to remove many of the barriers to tourism, small business and responsible development of renewable and non-renewable resources.

Mr. Speaker, the new sustainable development policy will also be tabled during this session, as well as details on the formation and membership of a round table on the environment and economy. With adoption of the sustainable development policy, your government is officially recognizing the interdependence between conservation and development. Application of the policy will affect all decisions and actions of the government relating to natural and heritage resources in the Northwest Territories. The round table is designed to provide a valuable forum for government, industry, native groups and public interest groups to work together toward sustainable development in a creative and constructive atmosphere.

The Environment

Your government knows that the public mood on environmental matters demands action now, not tomorrow. Because of this, it will be bringing forward amendments to the Environmental Protection Act and the Transportation of Dangerous Goods Act designed to tighten up the laws and fines governing pollution. The government also plans to develop recommendations governing the banning of certain non-biodegradable products in the Northwest Territories.

Mr. Speaker, there are a lot of actions all of us can take right away in an attempt to clean up our environment. One initiative is a program designed to encourage the return of empty liquor containers. Some 6.3 million liquor containers are imported into the Northwest Territories each year. About 5.1 million of them are aluminum beer cans which have a very high recycling value. To encourage their return, your government will be adding a fully refundable deposit charge to alcohol containers sold in or entering the Territories. Projections indicate the program will result in the recovery of about 70 per cent or more of the liquor containers.

As well, your government continues to take whatever steps it can to ensure that water quality in the Territories is not harmed by existing and proposed pulp mill developments in northern Alberta. Over the past year a monitoring program has been developed for the Slave River at the Alberta-Northwest Territories border. It was developed in co-operation with the Department of Indian and Northern Affairs and Environment Canada. The program began in August and is compatible with the $10 million federal/provincial monitoring program on the Alberta portions of the Slave, Peace and Athabasca river systems. It is designed to determine existing levels of pollution and whether the quality of water and fish stocks is getting worse because of downstream contamination.

Mr. Speaker, over the summer months your government has been examining the matter of military activity in the Northwest Territories. Later in this session the Government Leader plans to table a discussion paper that deals with such activity in the North as well as the establishment of a circumpolar zone of peace and security. Other matters of specific interest to Members and residents of the Northwest Territories will be addressed by the appropriate Members of cabinet as early as possible. They include your government's position on the elimination of diseased bison in Wood Buffalo National Park, an update on the Alberta pulp mill situation, the Dene/Metis and TFN land claims, official languages, the Northern Accord and a personnel administration strategy. Ministers will also be updating Members on other matters such as the economic development agreement, the Department of Education's new leadership residence, native justice, and initiatives being taken in the area of community self-government.

Legislative Schedule

Mr. Speaker, a legislative program including the following bills will be introduced for the consideration of the House. Amendments to the following acts will be advanced: Child Welfare Act; Cities, Towns and Villages Act; Civil Emergency Measures Act; Dental Profession Act; Elections Act; Environmental Protection Act; Financial Administration Act; Financial Agreement Act; Legislative Assembly and Executive Council Act; Local Authorities Elections Act; Official Languages Act; Petroleum Products Tax Act; Public Service Act; and the Statute Law Amendment (Official Languages) Act.

New bills include: Northwest Territories Farm Products Development and Marketing Act; Legislative Assembly Building Loan Authorization Act; Security Occupations Act; Supplementary Appropriation Act, No. 1, 1990-91; and Transportation of Dangerous Goods Act, 1990.

Your government considers these bills essential to the good conduct of government business and I recommend passage of each of these acts.

Commissioner's Awards

At this point, Mr. Speaker, I would like to announce a number of awards that will be presented in the near future. The first is the Commissioner's Award for public service at the highest level. This award will be presented to Judge James Slaven for his dedicated service to the northern people as a judge of the territorial court and for his contribution to the administration of justice in the Northwest Territories.

Commissioner's Awards for bravery at the highest level will be presented to Abraham Stewart and Bella Rosie Robert of Fort McPherson for actions they took in saving the lives of Roger O'Brien, Jacob O'Brien and Bill Hobson on the Peel River in September of 1987. A Commissioner's Award for bravery at the second level will be presented to Jack Marinic of Yellowknife for rescuing Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Brown of Quinton, Virginia, from their burning vehicle on the Ingraham Trail on July 16, 1989.

As well, letters of commendation will be sent to Michael Lafferty of Fort Good Hope and Alfred Betsidea, Joey Dillon, Fred Menacho and Thomas Neyelle, all of Fort Franklin. Mr. Lafferty is being commended for his actions in bringing himself and Lucy Ann Yakeleya back to Fort Good Hope after they had gone through the ice near the Ramparts in late November of 1987. The Fort Franklin residents are receiving a letter for their actions in rescuing John Ferdinand and George Dolphus from a burning building in that community on May 1 of this year.

Mr. Speaker, I would now like to commend to you, for your earnest consideration and wise judgment, the business of this House as I declare open the seventh session of the 11th Assembly of the Northwest Territories.

---Applause

ITEM 4: MEMBERS' STATEMENTS

Member's Statement On Ministerial Visits To Natilikmiot

MR. NINGARK: (Translation) Thank you, Mr. Speaker. There are three Members present that I wish to commend for visiting Pelly Bay, Cambridge Bay, Spence Bay and Gjoa Haven this past spring. They are the Minister of Social Services, the Hon. Jeannie Marie-Jewell; the Minister of Health, the Hon. Nellie Cournoyea; and the Hon. Stephen Kakfwi, Minister of Education. As the representative of the people of Gjoa Haven and Pelly Bay I extend my appreciation to the Ministers. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

MR. SPEAKER: Members' statements. The honourable Member for Aivilik.

Member's Statement On Aboriginal Languages And Self-Government

MR. ERNERK: Thank you, Mr. Speaker. Mr. Speaker, Members of the Legislative Assembly, I stand today to tell you of my frustrations about the lack of progress being made regarding the constitutional debate with the aboriginal people of Canada, especially in the area of aboriginal languages and self-government. The Canadian government almost blackmailed our government to pass a law which required the Government of the Northwest Territories to translate all Northwest Territories laws into the French language. If this is not done, Mr. Speaker, I have been told by this government that all laws that we have made in the past will be invalid, and this cabinet of the Northwest Territories government, that has an aboriginal majority, has agreed to do just what the Government of Canada wants it to do. I think this is wrong; I know this is wrong.

Mr. Speaker, the reason why the French language was recognized as the other official language in Canada was to accommodate the French-speaking people of the Province of Quebec. Well, Mr. Speaker, the Province of Quebec seems to want to leave Canada. All indications by the Prime Minister of Canada lead me to believe that he has already given his permission for Quebec to leave. Why then should we, the Members of the Northwest Territories Legislative Assembly, endorse the government's wish? I think once again, Mr. Speaker, aboriginal rights, Inuit rights, are being eroded. That is why, Mr. Speaker, when the time comes to vote for the bill, I will say "No".
