NORTHWEST TERRITORIES
WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION ADMINISTRATION
SIXTEENTH ANNUAL REPORT 1968-69

---

GENERAL

Payroll statistics for 1968-69 reflect an increase in commercial activity in the Northwest Territories.

1967-68 Total Payroll Insured and 3(2) Exempt	$35,493,878.74
Average monthly number of Employees (including Section 6 Exempt)	7,566
1968-69 Total Payroll Insured and 3(2) Exempt	$39,928,390.41
Average monthly number of Employees (including Section 6 Exempt)	8,777½

ADMINISTRATION

Eight Hundred and Forty-four (844) employers operated in the Northwest Territories in 1968-69 compared to Seven Hundred and Fifty-one (751) mentioned in the 1967-68 report.

AMENDMENTS

No changes were made to the Workmen's Compensation Ordinance and only minor changes were made in the regulations during the past year.

ENFORCEMENT

The increased use of telex and telephone does to a certain extent speed up claim handling and assists in dealing with problems relating to enforcement. Many problems and delays are however still being encountered because some employers are slow in replying to correspondence, and because some employers and workmen are not prompt in submitting properly completed accident forms.

ASSESSMENT

The net Administrative Assessment fees together with exemption fees collected from employers amount to $64,856.90 for 1968-69. This represents an increase of only $108.26 over the previous year.

EXPENDITURES

The overall cost of operating the Edmonton Compensation Office increased from $61,060.03 in 1967-68 to $63,812.49. The Northwest Territories share of these costs was $31,969.95.
