Dear Premier Kakfwi:

~~REDACTED SECTION~~

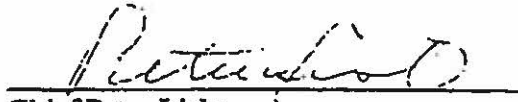

The Yellowknives Den First Nation support the establishment of June 21 as a statutory holiday.

First Nations peoples represent the majority of the Northwest Territories and a statutory holiday would bring increased awareness to our culture and heritage. This proposed holiday would provide all people, including First Nations peoples in the Northwest Territories with an occasion for families to come together to reaffirm our traditions and our commitment to sacred values.

Sincerely,

ALL ABORIGINAL LEADERS

Declaration of Aboriginal Day as a Statutory Holiday

Today, on Canada Day, I would like to enlist your support to declare Aboriginal Day, June 21 as a statutory holiday. We are the founding fathers of this country. First Nations peoples also represent the majority of the Northwest Territories, and a statutory holiday would bring increased awareness to our culture and heritage. This proposed holiday would provide all people, including First Nations peoples in the Northwest Territories with an occasion for families to come together to reaffirm our traditions and our commitment to our sacred values.

Our Premier, the Honourable Stephen Kakfwi has suggested in the Legislature that if there is enough support from Aboriginal Groups for this initiative, his office would seriously considering declaring Aboriginal Day as a statutory holiday.

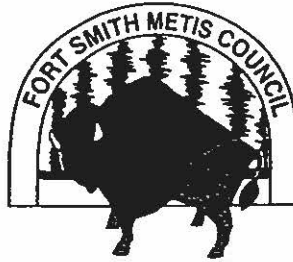

Respectfully, I would like once again, ask for your assistance, by requesting you to write a letter of support to the Premier for this important initiative. I have attached a recent news article for your consideration. If you have any questions or concerns you wish to address, please feel free to contact me at your convenience.

Yours truly,

David Krutko, MLA
Mackenzie Delta.

Re: Declaration of Aboriginal Day as Statutory Holiday

On behalf of the Board of Directors of the Dene Cultural Institute and myself, we wish to lend our support toward the establishment of Aboriginal Day on June 21st as a GNWT designated statutory holiday. June 21st is a Culturally significant day for all peoples of Canada to recognize the contributions that First Nations have made on this land and to this country we call "Canada".

Within our organizational policies, the Dene Cultural Institute has recognized and designated June 21st as Aboriginal Day since April 01, 1997. We encourage the GNWT to move toward reaffirming our traditions. Mahsi Cho.

Please accept this letter as the Board of Directors of Yellowknife Metis Nation Local #66's support for and appreciation of your efforts to have National Aboriginal Day declared a statutory holiday by the Government of the Northwest Territories.

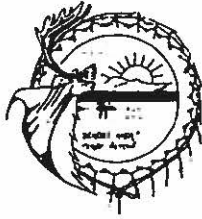

Indeed, approximately half the Northwest Territories' population is of Aboriginal ancestry and it, therefore, only makes sense that the Government of the NWT recognizes and celebrates the tremendous contribution Aboriginal people have made - in development of the North.

In closing, we look forward to the Government of the Northwest Territories declaring National Aboriginal Day a statutory holiday, as a consequence of your hard work.

Dear Mr. Krutko,

RE: LETTER OF SUPPORT for National Aboriginal Day as a Statutory Holiday

As per your letter Dated July 1, 2000, the Metis Heritage Association is in full support to have June 21, 2000, National Aboriginal Day, declared a statutory holiday.

Since 1996, June 21 of every year has been recognized and celebrated in Canada as National Aboriginal Day, a day supposedly set aside to honor the significant contributions made to Canadian society, by and for Aboriginal peoples, as well as for this great Nation.

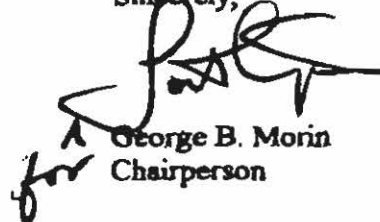

This day, although acknowledged and supported by the Territorial and federal government, has still not been marked as a statutory holiday. Yet, to this day National Aboriginal Day has not received that long in the waiting recognition it so well deserves, so that all people within the Northwest Territories can participate and enjoy.

Aboriginal people have and continue to make great contributions to the Northwest Territories for the betterment of Aboriginal people and the Territory as a whole.

The Metis Heritage Association, therefore, is requesting that the Legislative Assembly of the Northwest Territories, declare June 21, National Aboriginal Day, as a statutory holiday.

Any Questions or comments in regards to this issue can be directed to myself at the above noted numbers.

Sincerely,

Dear Premier Kakfwi:

RE: NATIONAL DAY OF ABORIGINAL SOLIDARITY

It is with great joy and enthusiasm, that the Dene Nation of Denendeh hears, that the current Members of the Government of the Northwest Territories Legislative Assembly wish to recognize the cultural and inter-Tribal significance of June 21 to Aboriginal Peoples of the Northwest Territories (Appendix A). If passed by the GNWT Legislative Assembly, the declaration of the National Day of Aboriginal Solidarity as a statutory holiday would be a triumph for all Peoples residing in Denendeh.

At the April 1982, Annual General Meeting of the Assembly of First Nations, held in Penticton, British Columbia, a motion was unanimously passed by the delegation of First Nation Chiefs to declare June 21 as a "National Day of Aboriginal Solidarity" for Indian people. The motion further states "June 21, is the longest day of the year and marks the changing of the seasons. It is also the time when the seeds of our future sustenance have been sown and grow in this land which is ours since time immemorial" (see 1982 Assembly of First Nations Motion # 39).

The 21st Dene National Assembly, held in Bell Rock, Denendeh, on July 29-August 5, 1991, in turn, unanimously declared "that June 21 shall be observed as a National Day of Aboriginal Solidarity in Denendeh and that all Dene Offices shall observe this day as a holiday" (see Dene National Assembly Motion # 91/96-007). Since that time, Dene First Nation and Tribal Governments have acknowledged the National Day of Aboriginal Solidarity as a statutory holiday.

For some time now, there has been some confusion by the general public over the titles "National Day of Aboriginal Solidarity" and "National Aboriginal Day." "National Aboriginal Day" is an Indian Affairs initiative to try to help celebrate the First Nations' declared

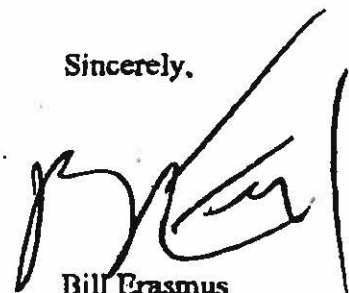

"National Day of Aboriginal Solidarity." The marketing of DIAND's National Aboriginal Day only helped confuse and undermine the importance of the Assembly of First Nations and all governing First Nations' declaration for June 21. In the past, the Dene Nation has tried to explain the difference to local event organizers (Appendix B).

It is hoped that the GNWT Legislative Assembly's motion will support the First Nations' declaration rather than the Indian Affairs version. If the GNWT Legislative Assembly passes a motion that supports the "National Day of Aboriginal Solidarity" as a statutory holiday, then we all win. Anything less or different would be rhetoric.

Good luck in your endeavours.

Should you require further explanation, please call our Yellowknife office and ask for the Dene National Chief or Executive Assistant, Joe Jack.

PRESS RELEASE

NATIONAL DAY OF ABORIGINAL SOLIDARITY

June 21, 2000 (Yellowknife) - Dene National Chief Bill Erasmus is asking the People of Denendeh to acknowledge the National Aboriginal Solidarity Day as a time for reflection. "It is time to remember who we are as descendants of the Dene. It is time to reflect who we are as First Nation Peoples. We all have families. We are parents, aunts, uncles and grandparents. We all play different roles in the larger community."

National Chief Erasmus emphasized that "teaching the language, maintaining traditional customs, values and laws, and living in harmony with the land, are all contributions that make up a Nation. In order for the Nation to survive, we must practice our own teachings."

"We must respect who we are and we must respect others. Our Treaties say that we must respect other peoples with different languages, customs, foods and lifestyles" reiterated the Dene National Chief.

The National Day of Aboriginal Solidarity was declared in Penticton, BC, in April 1982, by First Nation Chiefs at the Assembly of First Nations Annual General Meeting.

The 21st Dene National Assembly held in Bell Rock, Denendeh on July 29-August 5, 1991 supported the AFN Declaration by declaring June 21 as a National Day of Aboriginal Solidarity in Denendeh. All Dene Government offices are to observe this day as a holiday.

Dear Ms. Baker,

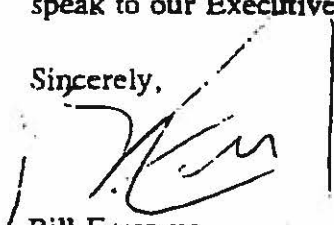

Thank you for providing our office with information concerning the upcoming events for "National Aboriginal Day", June 21st.

The Dene National Office has chosen to not participate in your committee's initiatives similar to last year because we celebrate "National Aboriginal Solidarity Day". This is a national first nations celebration stemming from the 1982 Assembly of First Nations declaration.

Our office has been in contact with the Assembly of First Nations to further clarify the difference between the Department of Indian Affairs initiatives on National Aboriginal Day and they too have confirmed that their office and membership celebrate different events. Although this is our position, communities of Denendeh can choose whether they want to participate your upcoming events. Should the Yellowknives Dene chose to participate, we encourage that you provide our portion of funding to them, because of their large membership and first nation population in the city of Yellowknife.

Should you require further information please do not hesitate to call me at (867) 873-4081, or speak to our Executive Assistant, Shelly Anderson.

Honourable Premier Kakfwi:

Re: Support to declare Aboriginal Day, June 21 as a statutory holiday.

The Hamlet of Paulatuk supports declaring June 21, Aboriginal Day, as a statutory holiday. Being a Community with a very high percentage of Inuvialuit, we feel very strongly that our First Nations peoples should be recognized by the Government of the Northwest Territories. We, as a Hamlet, have taken our own initiative on this and have already recognized declaring June 21 as a holiday in our Community for our Hamlet employees. This year for the first time, our Hamlet employees have taken the day off from work to recognize our own peoples, and our own culture. This is very important to the Community. We have recognized this in our Employment By- Law that was very recently passed by the Hamlet Council. Yes, we as a Community believe that June 21, Aboriginal Day should be recognized as a statutory holiday.

Thank you for your attention to this letter of support on this initiative and we look forward to hearing from the Government of the Northwest Territories on this very important initiative in recognition of our First Nations peoples.

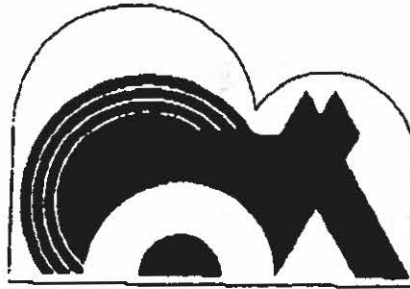

Signed,

Keith Dodge, Mayor

Dear Mr. Krutko:

re: DECLARATION OF NATIONAL ABORIGINAL DAY AS A STATUTORY HOLIDAY

Thank you for the opportunity to respond to your initiative to have National Aboriginal Day declared as a statutory holiday.

The Town of Inuvik has proclaimed National Aboriginal Day for the past three (3) years. In addition, our Recreation Department and local aboriginal groups have worked planning various events in celebration of the occasion.

We would like to take this opportunity to lend our full support to this initiative.

Sincerely,

George Roach
Mayor

Re: Aboriginal Day

The Tetlit Gwich'in and Elders Council of Fort McPherson are in full support of having June 21 as a statutory holiday.

We believe that there are many holidays brought upon us and it is time we declare a holiday for all Aboriginal Groups across the Northwest Territories.

Thank-you for your understanding & consideration

Chief, Abe Wilson
