Message from the Ministers

On behalf of the Government of the Northwest Territories, we are pleased to present the Northwest Territories Arts Strategy – A Holistic Approach to a Vibrant Arts Sector.

This strategy represents the Government of the Northwest Territories' recognition of the important role that arts and fine crafts plays in both our society and our economy, and demonstrates our commitment to take action to address identified issues and opportunities in this sector.

Developed in response to recommendations of the NWT Arts Strategy Advisory Panel and building on the initial joint response, "A Vision for the Arts" issued in July 2003, this strategy provides broad direction to guide future programs, services, and marketing efforts.

The extensive consultations undertaken by the Advisory Panel made up of representatives from the private and public sectors, as well as non-government arts organizations from across the NWT, highlighted key issues and needs in this sector. It also highlighted the tremendous breadth and depth of talent in the Northwest Territories.

Through this Arts Strategy, we have outlined current and future initiatives that will move us towards achieving our vision, "To secure the stability of a vibrant Arts sector that is integral to the economic, social, and cultural fabric of the NWT, and contributes positively to the quality of life within the NWT."

Both the Departments of Resources, Wildlife and Economic Development and Education, Culture and Employment are committed to working with artists to achieve this vision. Given the talent, initiative, and diversity already evident in the Northwest Territories arts community, we are confident this important sector will continue to strengthen and enrich both our lives and our communities.

Minister of Resources, Wildlife and Economic Development

Minister of Education, Culture and Employment

1. HISTORY

In 2000, the Government of the Northwest Territories (GNWT) Departments of Education, Culture and Employment (ECE) and Resources, Wildlife and Economic Development (RWED) committed to work together to develop a coordinated approach to supporting the arts and cultural sector in the Northwest Territories (NWT).

The first stage in this approach was to consolidate information on NWT arts and cultural activities and to summarize data and key issues relevant to this sector (NWT Creative Arts and Cultural Sector Profiles, ECE 2001). In early 2002, the Ministers of ECE and RWED established an NWT Arts Strategy Advisory Panel. In December 2002, the Panel submitted its recommendations in a report to the Ministers, A Vision for the Arts in the NWT. In July 2003, the GNWT presented a preliminary response, the NWT Arts Strategy Action Plan. In a covering letter, the Ministers also committed to developing a longer-term GNWT Arts Strategy.

An Arts Strategy Advisory Panel has provided the GNWT with community-based recommendations for support to the arts. The GNWT considered these recommendations and issued its Response in the fall of 2003. The GNWT's Response forms the first step in what will evolve into an integrated GNWT approach to the arts.

2. DEFINITIONS

In the NWT the arts is a cottage industry for art and fine crafts. This industry includes:

- Art
Art means an expression in the visual, literary and performing media through the use of individual skills and creativity.
- Artists
Artists employ creative abilities to create unique items in the visual, literary and performing media.
- Crafts and Fine Crafts
Crafts are items produced using traditional techniques and designs and are often variations on a theme. Fine Crafts are considered to reflect high levels of skill and ingenuity. Both Crafts and Fine Crafts are usually produced for sale.
- Cultural Industries
Cultural industries incorporate the commercial aspects of art and fine crafts, including art galleries, sound recording studios, filmmaking and book publishing.
- Film and Video Production
Film and video production refer to the processes of creation, production, post-production, promotion and distribution of a product.

- Literary Arts and Publishing
Literary arts and publishing involve the creation of original or creative writing, which can include but is not limited to, lyrics, manuscripts, musical scores, poetry, scripts and screenplays. This sector is comprised of the creative discipline as well as the production, promotion and distribution of this art form.
- New Media
New media refers to computer and digital technologies, video art forms, audio-visual installations and performances.
- Performing arts and Production
Performing arts and production include, but are not limited to, music, dance, performance art, theatre, spoken word and storytelling. This sector is comprised of the creative discipline as well as the production and promotion of the art form.
- Traditional Knowledge
Traditional knowledge is knowledge and values that have been acquired through experience, observation, from the land or from spiritual teachings, and handed down from one generation to another.
- Visual arts
Visual arts include but are not limited to carving, sewing, painting, printmaking and photography. They are the creation of one-of-a-kind, unique pieces by an Artist or group of Artists.

The NWT Communities include municipal governments and local and regional Aboriginal governments as well as the general population as a whole.

3. VISION

To secure the stability of a vibrant arts sector that is integral to the Economic, Social and Cultural fabric of the NWT and contributes positively to the quality of life within the NWT.

The vision for the arts is one in which:

- School programs offer students opportunities to learn about and appreciate the arts, to develop their interests and to discover their talents;
- Emerging and established Artists have access to programs that can assist them to further explore and develop their skills, and to support a career;
- Established Artists have access to business information and resources to learn about the business side of the arts;
- The work of Artists is promoted and marketed nationally and internationally;
- The public has access to venues and programs that showcase and highlight the many forms of creative talent in the NWT.

4. PRESENT CHALLENGE

To support the delivery of services and programs that will result in the creation of top quality art and fine crafts aimed at enhancing the growth and economic development of our individual Artists and preserve our cultural heritage and integrity.

Art and artistic endeavors are important from a social, cultural and economic perspective. The process of expression, creation and production of art celebrates, preserves and transmits culture throughout a life cycle of learning and awareness. This is a valuable benefit that cannot be measured in financial terms.

Successful implementation of the Arts Strategy will also directly assist the development of strong cultural industries. A healthy and thriving arts sector in the NWT will provide meaningful employment to residents in every community who would otherwise have limited opportunities to participate in the wage economy.

5. PRINCIPLES

Artistic expression is important to celebrate, preserve and transmit culture. It has direct linkages to maintaining Aboriginal languages, broadening residents' understanding of northern cultures, and establishing an NWT identity. It is also the key to the development of a strong cultural industry, in terms of both art and cultural tourism, throughout the North.

The NWT Arts Strategy will uphold the following principles:

- ◆ The arts are an integral part and reflection of a healthy community and economy.
- ◆ A thriving arts sector relies on the creativity, initiative, and ideas of individual Artists and volunteers.
- ◆ Government support through direct and indirect ways and means is essential to help foster, develop and maintain this creativity.
- ◆ Initiatives should build on both existing structures and successful initiatives by Artists, government and the private sector.
- ◆ New programs or initiatives should emphasize funding individual Artists as a priority.
- ◆ Coordination of programs and services will ensure more effective and efficient use of available funds.
- ◆ Arts programming and support should be available to all communities.
- ◆ Programming should be responsive to regional needs and opportunities.

6. GOALS

In acknowledging its shared responsibility for promoting and maintaining artistic and cultural expression, the GNWT has undertaken to achieve the following goals:

- Goal 1: People in the NWT, from an early age, are taught about the arts and have developed an appreciation of art in its various forms;
- Goal 2: Existing and emerging Artists in the NWT have access to programs and funding that support the development of their skills and the production and sales of their work;
- Goal 3: There is global awareness of the NWT arts and recognition of the importance and value of the work of NWT Artists, which enables them to earn a living through production and sales of their work, without compromising the cultural integrity of the arts community.

7. HOLISTIC APPROACH: THE “CIRCLE OF LIFE”

The GNWT will support and foster the growth and development of the NWT arts sector through a holistic approach that comes from a community-inspired way of life, the “Circle of Life”. When a member of the community is born, their birth is celebrated; they are educated and shown many skills and traditions to help them grow into a vibrant member of their community. They are provided with various programs and services, schooling, and education that aid them on their journeys or quests in life. In many cases, this is done through the use of Traditional Knowledge. Pride is taken in embracing them as important members of the community and they are given recognition for their achievements and accomplishments.

To apply a holistic approach to supporting the arts community using the “Circle of Life”, the GNWT will organize its actions around three main theme areas in support of NWT Artists at the community level.

- ➔ EDUCATION, AWARENESS AND APPRECIATION
- ➔ SUPPORT AND SERVICES
- ➔ MARKETING AND PROMOTION

These three themes are integral, with each area providing an essential element in the creation or production of arts. Education, awareness, and appreciation stimulate artistic endeavors, which in turn are supported by promotion and marketing. Successful Artists in turn help to increase awareness and appreciation, and the cycle continues.

In addition, the approach recognizes and supports the need for:

- Education and training (traditional and non-traditional);
- Holistic approach to community-based learning by incorporating traditional teachings which will bring together members of the community to work together and support each other;
- Awareness of the value and importance of cultural preservation; and
- Recognition of the need to support product development with linkages to marketing effort.

THE STRATEGY

The GNWT will follow the principles provided in this Strategy document, using the “Circle of Life” approach and the three related themes as a basis for program development. Using this approach, the Strategy will focus existing resources on priority needs and provide guidance in consideration of future program initiatives in support of the NWT arts sector, should additional resources become available.

Immediate actions from this Strategy are contained in an Action Plan for the arts, attached as Appendix A. The Action Plan also includes specific objectives that further the goals of this Strategy. This Action Plan will be reviewed annually and updated as required to reflect that some initiatives will have been completed, new priorities may arise, and that new opportunities or needs may have been identified that require action. These actions will be guided by the Strategy.

Revisions to the Action Plan will be based on industry input, identified needs, the availability of fiscal resources and a need to ensure most effective use of limited resources, while furthering the goals of the Strategy.
