2004-2005 Community Initiatives Program Annual Report

TABLED DOCUMENT NO. 106 15(4) JABLED O MAR 01 2006

MINISTER'S MESSAGE

As Minister of Municipal and Community Affairs (MACA), I am pleased to present the 2004-2005 Community Initiatives Program (CIP) Annual Report.

2004-2005 was the second year of delivery for the CIP, which is designed to financially assist eligible community governments or community supported organizations with the development of programs that address community priorities in the areas of families and youth, healthy lifestyles and safety education with a special emphasis on active living. Communities may use CIP funding for minor capital recreation projects; initiatives to increase access to community active living facilities for special needs groups; and safety education programs. The amount of funding provided through the CIP is not intended to cover the full costs of a project.

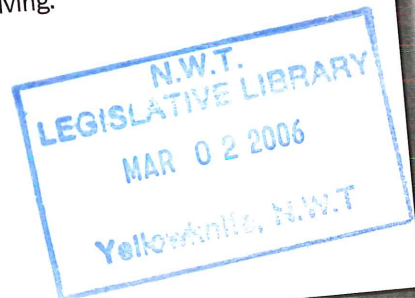

Instead, it is meant to assist the community in leveraging other sources of funding.

It is my pleasure to report that there were eighteen successfully delivered projects across the Northwest Territories in 2004-2005. I would like to extend my congratulations to those communities that were successful in achieving their goals. Our residents are the true beneficiaries of these achievements.

Through the CIP, MACA strives to ensure that communities have the ability to deliver quality programs. In turn, this commitment provides all residents of the NWT with the opportunity to enjoy the many benefits that result from leading a healthy, active lifestyle.

The following report details each community's initiatives and highlights the programs that were implemented in each region to promote active living.

Honourable Michael McLeod
Minister of Municipal and Community Affairs
