

GNWT Programs and Services for Persons with Disabilities Inventory

2nd Edition

June 2020

Government of Northwest Territories

Message from the Minister

I am pleased to present the 2nd Edition of the Inventory of Programs and Services for Persons with Disabilities (Inventory). This document helps us achieve our goals identified within the Equity, Accessibility and Inclusion, and Participation: NWT Disability Strategic Framework: 2017 to 2027, which guides how the Government of the Northwest Territories (GNWT) plans to achieve our vision of a more inclusive and accessible territory.

The Inventory provides a list of programs and services available for persons with disabilities and their caregivers through GNWT Departments, agencies, and those delivered through our partners. The inventory is a tool that can be used to help persons with disabilities and their caregivers maximize their use of the supports available in the North.

The 2nd Edition of the Inventory includes the addition of Home Care, as well as updates to content and contact information for various GNWT Department programs and services, as well as Non-Government Organizations and partners.

This inventory was developed in partnership with the:

- NWT Housing Corporation
- The Department of Education, Culture and Employment
- The Department of Health and Social Services
- The Department of Justice
- The Department of Finance
- The Department of Municipal and Community Affairs

You can obtain further hardcopies of the Inventory by contacting the Department of Health and Social Services Communications Unit at (867) 767-9052, ext. 49034 or by e-mailing hsscommunications@gov.nt.ca. Electronic versions are available on the department website, www.hss.gov.nt.ca.

Supporting Child Inclusion and Participation (SCIP), ECE

Supported Child Inclusion and Participation, or SCIP, funding will promote access to, and participation in, high quality early childhood programming for children who are vulnerable, at-risk and/or those with specific developmental needs.

Through a yearly proposal based system, SCIP will help provide children with the necessary supports to be successful in community based programming, and to participate in motivating and developmentally appropriate activities while providing children with a sense of purpose and engagement. SCIP funding is available for licensed center-based childcare, indigenous Governments and organizations, non-profit organizations, and unlicensed, community based early childhood programs.

In order to qualify for this program, you must be:

- Non-Indigenous or Métis

Medical Travel, HSS

The GNWT provides medical travel benefits for eligible NWT residents with a valid referral who must travel outside of their home community in order to access necessary health services at the nearest center where the services are available.

Medical travel benefits extend only to individuals who do not have similar coverage through an employer-sponsored or other 3rd party insurance or benefit program. These benefits include financial support for return trip intercommunity transportation (air or ground), accommodations, meals, and local ground transportation for the patient and, in some circumstances, an approved escort.

Accommodations, meals and ground transportation are offered through contracted boarding home facilities in major referral centers such as Edmonton, Yellowknife, and Inuvik for low income patients, patients enrolled with the HSS Extended Health Benefits program, Registered Métis, First Nations, and Inuit patients. Other eligible patients make their own arrangements and may submit a travel expense claim to seek reimbursement to help offset those costs.

Patients faced with extraordinary health needs and/or can demonstrate undue financial hardship as a result of individuals or unique circumstances, may submit a request for coverage outside the parameters of the medical travel policy which will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis.

Patients should contact the NTHSSA's Medical Travel Office for further information about eligibility, level of benefits, other requirements, current rates, etc. and/or for help submitting an expense claim.

Office of the Public Guardian, HSS

The Office of the Public Guardian helps people become legal guardians of individuals 18 years of age and older, who are unable to make decisions about their personal or health care. People who need help with their decisions may have a long-term mental condition or brain damage. Usually a family member will become a legal guardian. To become a legal guardian people should call the Office of the Public Guardian, who will then arrange to have a capacity assessment completed on the proposed represented person to determine the need for a guardian. That capacity assessment then goes to the courts to decide what kind of decisions the legal guardian may make. The kinds of decisions are usually about living arrangements, employment, social and recreational activities, education, health care and day-to-day living matters. The public/private guardian does not make decisions about money. The public/private trustee makes those decisions.

Public Trustee Office, DOJ

The Public Trustee administers estates for individuals who die intestate (i.e. without wills) for those deemed to be incapable of handling their own financial affairs. The Public Trustee also administers trusts for minors (i.e. young persons under 19 years of age).

When an individual becomes incapable of handling their financial affairs, and there is no power of attorney, a Court Order for Trusteeship would be required.

I am looking for information on Justice programs and services that may be of interest to offenders with disabilities. I can contact:

Specialized Court: Wellness Court, DOJ

The Wellness Court is an alternative to conventional court that includes a judicially supervised program designed to address the underlying issues that may contribute to re-offending. The purpose of the Wellness Court Program is to help offenders move beyond re-offending and successfully integrate into their communities by developing a healthier life. This program gives people a chance to change, while still holding them accountable for their behaviour.
